KANSAS STATE NEWS.

Second Kansas Veterans. The following appeal has just been issued to the survivors of the Second Kausas: Comrades of the "Old Second," do you remember, how twenty four years ago, on the 10th of August, at Wilson's Creek, you sprang to your feet on hearing the order ring ont like a bugle call, "Second Kansas to the front!" And do you remember the sinc-rity with which we followed gallant Colonel Mitchell, and took the position which the brave General Logan had assigned us, on the deadly line of battle! To me it seems but yesterday, yet I have ment since it disbanded.

I am anxious to meet the few survivors once more 'to the front," and as I was the youngest solder in the regiment, and perhaps in the army which took part in the battle. I have assumed the privilege of calling a special reunion of the old Second, to meet the second day September 30 of our great reunion at Topeka. Kan, where once more we may live over the marches, battles and reminiscences of our historic regiment. I should be glad to have the name and address of every surviving member of the regiment sent me forthwith, from which I wa prepare a roster for the information of all

An ther portion of the army is operating in the regions east of Siberia, and by suppressing the disturbing elements, unfettering trade and introducing a knowledge of religion and letters is, in one sense, opening the way for negro immigrants of intelligence and energy from America to push out from the African-American Republic to the healthy and fertile regions of the interior. In another sense it is forestalling the whole region for Mohammedism and making it difficult, if not impossible, if indeed it is desirable to convert that country to the faith imported from America by the immigrants. The third portion of the army is approaching the coast a few miles northwest of Sierre Leone. It has secured the admission by force or voluntery surrender of all the tribes on the way for 500 miles back. The largest and most important Pagan kingdom on this side of the Niger was Soolima, of which Talaba, a large commercial city, was the capital. Another very important achievement of this army was the destruction of the Hooboc power, an irresponsible organization, which for thirty years had been a source of annoyance and loss to caravans passing from the interior to the coast. Samudu gave orders to attack them in their mountain strongholds, which until then had proved inaccessible to the neighboring forces. They were surprised, their chief. Death Under Suspicious Circumstances of Hon. J. R. Walkup at Emporia - His Young Wife Suspected of Having Administered Poison, Which She is Known to-Have Purchased.

EMPORIA, Kas., August 23 .- The sudden and strange death of Hon. J. R. Walkup is the universal topic of conversation. Stories without number have happens that in 1880 a Mandingo named gravest suspicions and the most serious Samudu, of extraordinary intelligence and charges. Sunday night Mr. Walkup was pression of Paganism and the opening of meeting. He was taken worse on the roads to the coast, which in Tuesday, and although the physicians treated him for poison, and did bond tribe. During the last five years he rumored on the streets early yesterday has collected an army consisting, foot and morning that Mr. Walkup was dying from the effects of poison administered hammedan youth, wherever he goes, flock by his wife. Although Friday night was to his standard, anxious not only to secure the first time that suspicion of crime on the reward in the hereafter promises to the part of Mrs. Walkup had been made those who fight for their religion, but to public, yet it had existed with parties intimately acquainted with Mr. Walkup these expeditions those that battle for the and his physicians. The symptoms faith are sure to win. It is said that Samudu's | which Mr. Walkup exhibited on Sunday army is divided into three portions. One night indicated strychnine poison, and is operating near the head waters of the the indications for forty-eight hours or Niger. This portion recently drove certain more before his death were those of arsenie poison.

On the 14th Mrs. Walkup stepped into worth of strychnine. Mr. Irwin was in the act of getting the drug for her when she remarked in a louder tone that he might give her fliteen cents' worth. Mr. Irwin told her that she would have to sign the record, as all purchasers of poison are required to do. When he asked her for what purpose she wanted the strychnine, she said that was a thing she could not tell, only that she wanted to use it as an ingredient in a medicine she was making. She stated that while in Cincinnati last July she called for some strychnine, but the clerk had made a mistake and gave her quinine. When Mr. Irwin again aszed her to sign the record she remarked: "You don't think I am going to commit snicide, do you?"

On Thursday, the 20th, Mrs. Walkup cailed at Wheldon's drug store and asked for a quarter's worth of arsenic, saying that she wanted to use it to improve her complexion. Mr. Wheldon finally sold her four onnces of arsenic and as soon as he heard that Mr. Walkap was sick he went to Dwight Bell and told him that he had sold Mrs. Walkup some arsenic, and has always successfully resisted both from what he had heard since had grave diplomat and warrior. Miss Walkup said she did not know of any poison being in the house during his sickness. She had been at home but a few days since her father's marriage, having returned from Colorado last Tuesday evening.

M. H. Bates testified that he sold Mrs. Walkup about eight grains of strychnine on the 12th of August. She signed an application, but did not write the purpose for which she wanted it, saying it was for a private formula. The medicine was put in a small strychaine bottle and labelled poison. It was sulphate of strychnine she purchased. She sent a written order Sunday by a colored girl for strychnine, saving that she had lost the first. Mr. Bates did not let her have it. L. Severy testified that Mrs. Walkup told him in reference to the strychniae purchased of M. H. Bates that she had bought the strychojae for the purpose of district.
